

It is a great relief for people like myself who are on the road for a living to be up to date on what is happening. I travel through out Florida selling medical supplies and I can't tell you how many times I have been caught on the Intersate or in a major city, not knowing what is going on. I have only been an XM member for two months and I have already used the traffic service in the Orlando market. This was due to an auto accident. The equal opprotunity to access such information should not be taken away from us.

Sincerely,
John Brooks
